Sondor archaeological site

Archeological site of Sondor, or “Sitio Inca” (the Inca Place). It is located at 21 kilometers from the city Andahuaylas. It is a ceremonial center and archeological site located in the Pacucha district, at 30 minutes from Andahuaylas. According to studies, it has architectural elements of monumental character.

The first discovery is Muyu Muyu Ruins, sacred promontory of Sondor; with stairs and restored terraces. At 500 stairs up, on the top of the central pyramid, there is a huaca where presumably human sacrifices took place.

In the Sondor Ruins, at present, the epopey of Chanka is represented. In which the leader Anccoahuayllo marched against Cusco facing the menace of the Incas for his people.
